as marketing specialists know all too well our experience of products is prefigured by brands trademarks that identify a product and differentiate it from its competitors this process of branding has hitherto gained little academic discussion in the field of literary studies literary authors and the texts they produce though are constantly branded from the early modern period onwards they have been both the object and the initiator of a complex marketing process this book analyzes this branding process throughout the centuries focusing on the case of the netherlands to what extent is our experience of dutch literature prefigured by brands and what role does branding play when introducing european authors in the dutch literary field or vice versa by answering these questions the volume seeks to show how literary scholars can account for the phenomenon of branding libraries in today's global world have emerged as key players in building a culture for reading in communities while enhancing the literacy development of children youth adults and seniors whether one lives in a modern city with sophisticated library services or in a remote region of the world where access to books and literacy services may be limited librarians and libraries are contributing to the development of learning communities this book captures some of the essence of this work in libraries in order to inspire and support all those who value the role of libraries in building global communities the authors highlight the emerging role of libraries and community partners in literacy development and provide concrete examples via case studies drawn from global communities demonstrating how libraries are working to support local literacies they also suggest recommendations for supporting the critical role for libraries in supporting global literacies the book will become essential reading for all those interested in literacy and libraries throughout the world the analysis of constructions denoting possession particularly but not exclusively in english has long presented a challenge to morpho syntactic theory and has been a topic of debate for some time the papers presented here afford thought provoking insights into the morphosyntactic nature of possessive markers under a variety of theoretical frameworks the distribution of phrases expressing possession is explored in a range of languages including english swedish urdu and west flemish with rigorous exploitation of corpus data and careful statistical analysis descriptions and analyses represent the state of the art in research into possessive constructions particular attention is paid to the english possessive s both synchronically and diachronically this volume is essential for scholars interested in theoretical and corpus based linguistics morphosyntactic constructions and the expression of possession
